

Climate science must be more open, say MPs

---

We consider that climate scientists should take steps to make available all the data that support their work, including raw data... and full methodological workings, including the computer codes.

Webpage: <http://news.bbc.co.uk>