

Funding available for GMD papers

GMD has some funding available to support submissions from those with limited publication funds, especially lead authors from developing countries, and for submissions which are significantly longer than the average (i.e. papers that are typically greater than 60 Discussion Paper pages). Authors of such papers can contact the chief editors to request a full or partial waiver.